HIGH ENTRANCE FEES

Kept Several Shooters from Participating in the Events.

There were some lively contests in the live sparrow events at the Limited Gun Club grounds yesterday. The high entrance fee kept several of the shooters, who engaged in the target events on Wednesday, from participating in the events yesterday. The scores which are given below show that the shooting was first class and many straight scores were made during the day. Pollowing are the scores:

First Event-Ten birds: Neal, Martin, Parry. Tripp and Jacksnipe, 10; Thompson, Stipp and Smith, 8; Cadwallader, 7; Sherwood,

THE RESULT IS LESS SCORES

GREAT MARATHON RACE WAS THE FEATURE OF YESTERDAY.

Americans Unfamiliar with the Course-Results of the Rowing Regatta on Harlem River.

PARIS, July 19.-The manner in which the American athletes had been sweeping the field in the international games in connection with the Paris exposition opened the eyes of the organizers and the result was shown in the handicapping of the day, which practically left the Americans out in the cold. The effect on the Americans was demonstrated by the fact that, whereas on the previous days they had secured four-fifths of the games, tc-day, out of nine events, they captured only one first, with four seconds and five thirds. The feature of to-day's programme was the twenty-five mile Marathorn foot race. The first and second prizes, valued at 500 and 250 francs, respectively, were the gifts of an American silver manufacturing company, the first being a large silver loving cup, and the second, one somewhat smaller, the company also having given prizes in the standing high and broad jumps.

The race, a trying one under and conditions, threw an exceptional strain on the ontestants to-day, owing to a blazing sun that poured upon their heads throughout the run, and, of the thirteen who entered, only seven were able to finish. The course was of forty kilometers, in the form of a complete circle of Paris, a most trying ordeal. Three doctors were stationed at various points along the route in order to render assistance to the sufferers.

The start was made at 2:30 p. m. There were thirteen runners, as follows: Americans-A. L. Newton, of the New York Athletic Club; "Dick" Grant, of Boston, and MacDonald. Frenchmen-Fourquet Denis, Champion Emilo, Theatro Michel, Bessmare and Marchaise. Englishmen-John Pool, Saward and Rondall. Swedes-Nystrom and Fast.

The race opened with four turns on a track and the competitors then traversed the Bois de Boulogne to Passy, whence a circle of Paris was made. The runners kept fairly well together at the beginning, going at an easy pace, with the two first named Frenchmen leading when they left the track for the Bois de Boulougne. Gen-Horace Porter, the United States ambassador here, witnessed the start of the con-

The result was a victory for a Frenchman, and his compatriots celebrated their first and only win in the sports with characteristic enthusiasm. French spectators invaded the track and carried Theatro Michel around on their shoulders, while the cheers resounced across the grounds.

AMERICANS FARED BADLY. The three American competitors, to whom the course was quite new and proved a se vere handicap, fared badly. Newton made the best showing, keeping pace with the leading batch of Frenchmen until about twenty miles had been covered. By this time all the weaklings had been weeded out Newton, who had not been feeling well for several days, overcome by the heat and exertion, was now obliged to drop behind. He struggled on pluckily to the end, but reached the goal nearly an hour and a spectators imagined that all save those who had arrived had abandoned the race. and many went home. Newton's arrival, therefore, passed almost unnoticed, except by the Americans, who gave him an encouraging cheer as he entered the track for the three laps which formed the conclusion of the race. This he did walking. Grant and McDonald arrived a little later, together. Grant, who was quite done up, iropped on the grass after passing the finish line and seemed to be in a fainting condition. He received every attention from the French and other people, who stood over him fanning him. Finally he recovered and walked to his dressing room, leaning on the arm of his trainer. Owing either to a lack of notice or to unfamiliarity with the language, the Americans were barred from the contest for the pole vault. The men were all in costume and sitting beneath a tree about twenty yards from the point of contest, but the French officials called names unknown to in 11:081/2. F. J. Greer, Boston, second. them, and when they saw the pole vaulting start they walked over and attempted to compete, but were not permitted to take part. As the result of their being left out they were allowed a special scratch event. What would have happened had they been allowed to enter the regular competition can be gathered from a comparison of the results there with those in the scratch event. In the former, Kauser, a Hungarian, won, with 3 meters 95 centimeters; Lemmaing, a Swede, was second, with 3 meters 40 centimeters, and Colkett was third, with 3 meters 20 centimeters. Kauser's handicap of 45 centimeters gave him the prize. On the other hand, in the scratch event, Horton cleared 3 meters 45 centimeters, and Dyorack 3 meters 40 centimeters. The day's programme opened with the handicap 100 metres flat race, for which there were sixty-five entries, necessitating fifteen trial heats. These were won as fol-

Fourteenth-Lible won; Keyl, German, second. Time, :11. Fifteenth-A walkover for Bessing, French. The semi-finals were won by Minnehan. McLean, Heallan, Schubert and Pritchard and these contested in the final, which was a pretty race and full of interest. Minnehan's handicap was 6 metres, McLain's 31/4. Schubert's 1/2, Holland's 4 and Pritchard's 3 All got off well, but as they swept over the turf the blue and gray of Georgetown's two entries were seen to be leading safely. They finished almost abreast, Minnehan beating his college mate. Pritchard was OTHER CONTESTS.

Thirty-four men entered the 800-meters flat race, which was contested in four trial heats. Hayes, with a handicap of fortyfive meters, won the first; Lord, of Chicago University, with a handicap of twenty-five meters, was second. Cregan, with a handicap of fifteen meters, romped in in the second heat, Bennett, with a handleap of fifteen meters, getting second place. The third heat went to Christensen, Dane, with a handicap of seventy-five centimeters, I fought at a weight which left me no Charles Field, I. A. Dicks, Ben W. Immediately after the start it was seen the finish would be between the two Americans and Pritchard, of the English team. Pritchard had the best handicap, and his lead was not overcome. He won rather handily in 1:06. Tewksbury being second and Lewis third. Pritchard's handicap was fifteen meters, Tewksbury's four and one-half, and Lewis's ten. Fabre, Charles Deroua and Tausin, all Frenchmen, were the other starters.

Although twenty-two entered in the 2,500meters steeplechase, only twelve started, as the handicaps frightened many. The Americans and Englishmen felt that they had no chance of winning, and it was only at the last minute that Orton decided to start. The two men with the biggest handicaps were Duhnoe (German), with 240 meters, and Kraschtil (Austrian), with 230. These two led all the way, and finished with the Austrian in front. Bushnell, University of Pennsylvania, with 175 meters, was third. Time, 7:17 2-5. Grant was the other American in the race, and he and Orton were too heavily handicapped to win. In the running high jump handicap, Toreblom, a Swede, with a handicap of 65 centimeters, was first, clearing 2 m. 5 cm.; Strauss, a Hungarian, with 35 centimeters handicap, was second, clearing two meters, and Remington, University of Pennsylvania, with a handicap of 20 centimeters, Goenezy, a riungarian, with 25 centimeters handicap, and Sleffen, a German, with 30 centimeters handicap, tied for third place | Detroit

The Americans did not make a showing n the discus throw, which was won by Soderscome, a Swede, who had a handicap of 5 m. 50 cm., and yet made the best throw of the day, 35 meters. In the long jump handicap the Americans stood a better chance, and secured second and third prizes, the result being that Koppan, a Hungarian, with a handicap of m. 60 cm., jumped 7 m. 891/2 cm.; McLain, University of Pennsylvania, with a handicap of 85 centimeters, did 7 m. 72 cm.; Remington, with a handicap of 20 centimeters, covered 7 m. 65 cm.; Prinzstein, the scratch man, beat the French record with 7 m. It is noteworthy that Prinzestein's jump

Kranenzlein's Sunday jump, which won the championship, when Prinzestein stood out, owing to the misunderstanding. The Marathon race was an easy win for of Emil, the French champion. Fast, the Swede, who was third, was thirty-eight minutes behind the winner. The three Americans, Newton, Grant and McDonald, finished fifth, sixth and seventh, over an hour later. They were thoroughly exhausted, having found the road execrable, badly paved with cobblestones and desti- 3 to 2. tute of shade for the greater part of the distance. Newton was with the leaders up to about 30 kilometers, when he collapsed and finished the race walking. The distribution of prizes then took place, the American winners being enthusiastically cheered by their fellow-countrymen and also applauded by the foreigners.

The weather was to the liking of the competitors, but a strong breeze blew directly against the oarsmen, which made fast time out of the question. There are three days' racing in all. On to-day's programme there were seven events, but one, a heat in the four-oared shell race, was put off until to-morrow. Of the six races rowed three-the international fours, a heat of the intermediate singles and the pair-oared shell race-were rowed with the incoming tide. The intermediate doubles, first heat, the senior eight-oared shells and the Paris four-oared shells were rowed against the outgoing

About ten thousand persons lined the river banks near the finish. The first event was the international four-oared shell race. The starters were the Wachusett Boat Club, of Worcester, Mass., and the Detroit Boat Club, of Detroit. The Wauchusett crew was stroked by E. H. Ten Eyck, the ex-Henley champion, who introduced his sculling style of sweep rowing. The Wauchusetts were the first to catch the water. After a few strokes, however, the Detroits drew level and then commenced a rare tussle. Both crews steered badly, but of the quarter after the winner. By this time the two the Wachusetts were the worse, and if they should commit the same mistake in the Paris regatta they will land clear up on the bank of the River Seine. At the mile the crews were about level, but by sheer plugging the Wachusetts forged ahead and finally won by two and one-half lengths of open water in 7:36%. Joseph Nial, a slim youngster from the Laureate Boat Club, of Troy, secured a decisive win in the first heat of the intermediate singles. Time, 9:40. The pair-oared shells was a veritable gift for Exley and Busche, of the Vesper Boat Club, of Philadelphia. The crews had hardly rowed three hundred yards when the Quakers were in front about two lengths and going along in rare style. They crossed the line about twelve lengths ahead of the Detroit Boat Club. The Unions, of New York, were the only other crew in this race. Time, 9:49%.

Senior eight-oared shells: Vesper Boat New York, second

The last race was the Paris fours, the competitors again being the Wachusetts and Detroits. The Wachusetts won by about a length, and the victory entitles them to a trip to the Paris exposition at the expense of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen. Time, 7:10%. The four are E. H. Teneyck, Con E. Daly, Thomas R. Johnson and C. Henry Lewis, all of Worcester, Mass.

Standing of the Clubs.

The eighteen ball players, representing the Indianapolis and Kansas City teams, were on the field at Washington Park yesterday afternoon an ample length of time to permit of them "getting their feet wet," as is the saying when a man enters a game of the festive "draw." But the wetness was real as far as the players were concerned, especially the men who were stationed in the out gardens. When they ran after balls to-day was seven inches better than the water would splash up and their shoes would sink in the soft ground, impeding their speed. The infield was not in such bad condition, but several slides were made Theatro Michel, who was a long way ahead | by players in going after the balls that were ludicrous. Notwithstanding the muddy condition of the field, the contest was so interesting that it took ten hard fought innings to decide the winner, Indianapolis finally coming out victorious by a score of Kellum and Patten were the opposing twirlers and both did well, especially when men were perched on the bases awaiting an opportunity to wend their way around the circuit with tallies. Seybold was at first and Magoon at second, Flynn being at short because Madison's sore hand would not permit him to get back in the game. Seybold's work was good, but he fell down on a ground ball which permitted the runner to reach first and later score. Kellum's NEW YORK, July 19 .- The twenty-eighth | pitching was not his only feature, for he annual regatta of the National Association | fielded his position in remarkably fine style, having a total of seven assists to der the auspices of the Harlem Regatta his credit. THREE DOUBLE PLAYS.

Three fast double plays were made by the visitors and two were chalked up by the Indians, all of which were cleverly exe cuted and deprived the opposing teams of scores. Coughlin at third for Kansas City played a fast game and seemed to be the best mud hen in the entire aggregation. The game started off to be one-sided, for the Hoosiers in the first inning piled up a couple of runs, but the Cowboys applied the airbrakes and but few times after that did Indianapolis even come near to tally until the last half of the tenth, when the Indians won the game. After Kansas City tied in the third it was then a fight for the winning run. Kellum was hit occasionally but when men were on bases he would send them up in such bewildering styles that the opposing batsmen were not capable of solving his delivery. They struck at the ball wildly, but it sped on into the hands of Powers unmolested by the frantic efforts of the Cowboys to knock the cover off it. Patten, too, was effective when a hit meant a run and with fast fielding behind him the Hoosiers were deprived of chances to score early in the game and thus prevent a ten-inning contest. The first ball Kellum sent over was driven to right field for a base by Hemphill and the next one resulted in Wagner sacrificing, sending Hemphill to second. O'Brien and Dungan were easily disposed of and then came the Hoosiers' trial in the run getting business. They did not fail or make | drenching rain. a voluntary assignment, for in the first inning they were very prosperous. Hogriever made his tracks in the mud to first OFF on a pass presented by Patten. When Hartsel struck at the third strike and failed to connect Hogriever stole second. Geler hit a slow one to the infield which he beat to first. Seybold lifted one across several ponds, lakes and canals to deep left center, where it dropped safely, sending two men across the plate and allowing him to plow his way to second. Magoon walked and then Powers drove one to Coughlin, resulting in a double play.

LEAD CUT DOWN. Half of the Hoosiers' lead was cut down in the second inning when the men from the West got one tally. After Farrell was kind enough to drop one at Kellum's feet, retiring at first, Coughlin started trouble with a single. Stewart, the In the association single sculls D. Club won in 9:1414; Bohemian Boat Club, With two strikes on Patten Gonding started to steal second. Powers threw to Magoon on which Coughlin started for the plate. Magoon caught the ball and made a wild throw as his foot slipped, allowing Coughlin to score. Patten fanned out on the next hall Hickey got tangled in the mud between second and third in the last of the second inning, which deprived the Hoosiers of making more runs. He was on first when Hogriever hit safely. Hickey went to second and then started for third, but was easily caught on the line. The third inning witnessed the Cowboys making the necessary run to tie the score. Hemphill, who was the first batter, rolled one to Seybold, which was juggled. Wagner again sacrificed his team-mate to sec ond and on O'Brien's short single to left Hemphill crossed the plate. Both teams seemed to realize after that inning that one run would probably win the game and they fought desperately for a tally and just as hard to prevent the other side from scoring. The infield dried as the game progressed and during the latter innings permitted some clever plays to be made. In the eighth inning a double play by Powers and Seybold retired the visitors and another double in the last half by Stewart and Dungan again left the score a tie. Ir the ninth inning both teams were retired in one, two, three order and in the first of the tenth the first three men to face Kellum were retired. In the last half Indianapolis won. Sufferers from this horrible malady nearly always inherit it - not necessarily from the parents, but may be from some remote ancestor, for Cancer often runs through several generations. This deadly poison may lay dormant in the blood for years, or until you reach middle life, then the first little sore or ulcer makes its appearance - or a swollen gland in the breast, or some other part of the body, gives the first warning. To cure Cancer thoroughly and permanently all the poisonous virus must be eliminated from the blood-every vestage of it driven out. This S. S. S. does, and is the only medicine that can reach deepseated, obstinate blood troubles like this. When all the poison has been forced out of the system the Cancer heals, and the disease never returns. Cancer begins often in a small way, as the following letter from Mrs. Shirer shows:

A small pimple came on my jaw about an inch below the ear on the left side of my face. It gave eince, and I should have forgotten about it had it not begun to inflame and tch; it would bleed a little, then scab over, but would not heal. This continued for some time, when my jaw began to swell, becoming very painful. The Cancer be gan to eat and spread, until it was as large as a half dollar, when I heard of S. S. S. and determined to give it a fair trial.

and it was remarkable
what a wonderful effect it had from the very beginning; the sore began to heal and after taking a few bottles disappeared entirely. This was two years ago; there are still no signs of the Cancer, and my general heatlb continues good.—Mrs. R.
